About Fortress Bonds

What are Fortress Bonds?

Fortress Bonds are loan notes (also known as corporate bonds) issued by Castle Trust Direct plc and sold to investors by Castle Trust Capital plc on the terms set out in the Fortress Bond Terms and Conditions. Fortress Bonds provide a fixed rate of interest over a fixed period of 1, 2, 3 or 5 years, returning the original investment amount at maturity. Interest can be taken either as quarterly income or at maturity (alongside the return of the original investment amount).

New series of Fortress Bonds are made available at the beginning of each month and are offered to investors throughout the month (for more details see "What is the Offer Period?" below). The advertised interest rates only relate to each month's series of Fortress Bonds and, as such, are only available for complete applications received during the month. However, each offer is subject to availability and Castle Trust reserves the right to close an offer early if it is over-subscribed.

Is a Fortress Bond an investment or a savings account?

Fortress Bonds are fixed term fixed rate investments, which is not the same as a fixed term fixed rate savings account. One of the main differences between a Fortress Bond and a fixed term fixed rate savings account is the amount of cover provided by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) in the event of a company default.

Are Fortress Bonds covered by the FSCS?

Castle Trust Capital plc (the entity from which you buy Fortress Bonds) is an investment firm that is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and is a participant in the FSCS. The FSCS can pay compensation if a number of conditions, set out in FCA rules, are met. The FSCS considers each claim individually at the time a claim is made to decide whether the conditions are met. The main conditions are:

- An authorised firm must be "in default" – i.e. it is unable or likely to be unable to pay claims against it;
- The claim must relate to a regulated activity that is protected by the FSCS, such as protected investment business;

- The firm must be legally responsible for the claimant's loss; and
- The claimant must be eligible.

Castle Trust's legal obligation to buy back Fortress Bonds is "protected investment business".

What is the maximum cover of the FSCS on Castle Trust investments?

If you are eligible for FSCS protection, the FSCS may pay compensation on your investment, up to a maximum of £50,000 per person. If you invest as a joint account and both individuals are eligible under the FSCS, you can claim up to a maximum of £100,000. A higher limit of £85,000 applies in relation to firms offering deposits such as banks and building societies, but Fortress Bonds are not deposits.

What are the risks?

You risk losing capital should Castle Trust become insolvent (go into default).

Can I take a Fortress Bond out as a joint application?

Fortress Bonds are available on an individual and joint application basis.

Are Fortress Bonds available as ISAs?

Fortress Bond ISAs are also available (on a single applicant basis only), and are classed as stocks and shares ISAs. They can accept contributions up to the annual ISA limit, and the cash value of an existing ISA as an ISA transfer.

What is the Offer Period?

The Offer Period is the period of time that any particular Fortress Bond is offered for sale by Castle Trust Capital plc and, as such, is the period within which an investor may apply for such Fortress Bonds. New series of Fortress Bonds are offered each month. The Offer Period for a particular month's Fortress Bond offering opens at 2pm on the last business day of the preceding month and closes at 2pm on the last business day of the month. For example, the Offer Period for a March Fortress Bond opens on the last business day of February and closes on the last business day of March.

Can the interest rate change?

The interest rate on a Fortress Bond stays the same until the end of the Bond term.

During an Offer Period, Castle Trust cannot reduce the interest rate on a particular Fortress Bond during an Offer Period but it may increase such rate at its discretion. If this happens, the increased rate will be applied to all Fortress Bonds in the relevant series, meaning that both new applicants and successful applicants who invested in such Fortress Bonds prior to the rate increase will benefit from the new interest rate.

Top-up options

Fortress Bonds are single contribution investments, so they can't be topped up at a later date, or accept regular contributions.

Death of the Bondholder

If your investment is in your sole name, your executors will need to tell us what to do with your investment. We can either transfer ownership of the plan to one or more of your beneficiaries or, subject to our normal rules, allow your executors to cash the investment in early. If you have invested in joint names with someone else, we'd simply continue the investment in their name until the end of the term. At maturity, we will pay the full amount due to the surviving investor.

Statements

We will send investment statements by post or, if you have opted in to receiving electronic statements, upload them to the investor portal twice a year (as at 31 January and 31 July) showing the value of your Fortress Bond at that point.

Online account

You can apply for an online account which will allow you to update your personal details, view your Fortress Bond investments, opt to receive communications online (via the investment portal) instead of by post, and provide your maturity instructions.

At maturity

We will contact you as the maturity date of your Fortress Bond approaches to confirm your maturity instructions. You will be able to withdraw some or all of your investment and any interest due, re-invest some or all of your investment in a new Fortress Bond, or, in the case of a Fortress Bond ISA, transfer the value to a new ISA manager if you wish.

What is an AER?

Fortress Bond interest rates are shown as AERs. AER stands for Annual Equivalent Rate and illustrates what the interest rate would be if interest was paid and compounded once each year. This rate assumes that you invest on the first day of the Offer Period, and receive your cashflows as per the contractual terms. The AER is used to enable a better comparison with other fixed rate, fixed term products available on the market.

What is the interest period?

Let's take our 1 year, interest at maturity March 2016 Fortress Bond as an example:

Applications for this Fortress Bond could have been received at any point during the March 2016 Offer Period.

The March 2016 Offer Period opened at 2pm on Friday 26 February 2016 (the last working day on the month preceding the offer month) and closed at 2pm on Thursday 31 March 2016 (the last working day of the offer month).

Applications received during an Offer Period all start to earn interest on the day after the last day of the Offer Period and continue to earn interest until the day before the maturity date. Continuing our example, interest started to be earned on the 1 year, interest at maturity March 2016 Fortress Bond from Friday 1 April 2016. Interest was then earned until the day before the maturity date. The maturity date is the first business day after the anniversary month of the Offer Period relating to a Fortress Bond in the year that Fortress Bond matures. Returning to our example, the anniversary month for the 1 year, interest at maturity March 2016 Fortress Bond was March 2017 and the maturity date was Monday 3 April 2017.

What if I have a complaint?

To register a complaint, you can contact us by telephone or in writing. Where possible, we will try to resolve your complaint immediately. However, this may not always be possible, in which case we will write to you within five working days of receiving your complaint to:

- Acknowledge receipt of your complaint
- Tell you who will be looking into your complaint
- Assign you a case reference number in case you wish to contact us about your complaint at any time

If you are not satisfied with our response to your complaint you can refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service. The Financial Ombudsman Service provides a free, independent service for customers to resolve disputes with financial firms.
